

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY.

Prof. C. J. Norwood, Director of the State Geological Survey, Announces His Arrangements

HAVE BEEN COMPLETED.

Prof. C. J. Norwood, director of the State Geological Survey, announces that he has completed the organization of his corps of assistants and entered upon the work contemplated by the act of the Legislature reviving the bureau, says the Courier-Journal. His assistant, Mr. J. B. Hoeling, long topographer of the survey under Prof. Proctor, and for some time later one of his most effective assistants in geological field work, will have special charge of the study of the oil districts, his work in the old survey having been in the same line. This statement is made authoritatively to prevent confusion likely to arise from an incorrect announcement that this work had been assigned to Prof. Arthur Miller, another assistant. In the prosecution of his work Mr. Hoeling will inspect the wells bored in various portions of the State, and will desire to obtain all available records of the borings, as to depth at which oil was obtained and the geological character of the rocks penetrated. For this reason it is desirable that the managers of the various companies engaged in such work should be apprised of his official assignment, and furnish him all information in their possession. In turn he will be able to render them valuable aid in prospecting for oil, from his knowledge of the underlying rocks and of the possibility of success in any defined region. By such co-operation many thousands of dollars will be saved to prospectors by his better knowledge of the subject and by the practical advice he can give them.

Prof. Arthur Miller, first assistant to the director, has charge of the areal geology of the Central Kentucky lead, zinc and spar district. He is specially well fitted for this work from his close study and knowledge of the lower silurian formation of Kentucky, in which these minerals are found. During the existence of the old survey but slight evidence of the existence of these substances had been found, except as to lead, which had not proved sufficiently abundant to give promise of being commercially valuable. Later indications have been found of the existence of lead, zinc and spar, and warrant the belief that proper investigation will produce valuable results.

To Prof. Aug. F. Foerste has been assigned the study of the upper silurian and Devonian clays and shales. This is a field in which Kentucky is just now interested and upon which there is needed information, as among other valuable deposits found in those formations are the clays adapted for making Portland cement, vitrified brick, pottery and for other uses. They embrace also iron ores, such as are found in Bath county, and large deposits of the Devonian black shale, found about Louisville and in large areas in various portions of the State from 75 to 150 feet thick, which is coming to be regarded as of great future value in the production of oil, gas, vitrified brick and other utilities. Prof. Foerste has given more attention to those formations in Ohio, Tennessee, Indiana and Kentucky than any other geologist, and ranks high among the geologists of the country.

This is a good beginning and will in time yield good fruit. The small appropriation at the command of the director limits his force and will not admit of a study of all the branches of the subject from the start, but gradually it is expected to cover the whole field. The next assignment will be in the matter of coal, which, however, was so thoroughly explored by the old survey as not to need immediate attention as much as the other branches which have already been organized.

One very desirable end is that the work of the survey should enlist the sympathy and interest of every intelligent mind in the State, and should engage the co-operation of all who wish to see Kentucky develop in proportion to her valuable geological resources. Especially should it commend itself to the higher schools and colleges of the State. An erroneous impression seems to have gotten out that the survey would be controlled by State College, and the work depends chiefly upon its professors and students. This does equal injustice to the survey and the college. All the collegiate institutions of the State should understand that the survey wishes to have their co-operation, and that it is not being operated as an adjunct of any one college, but that in every way in which opportunity is offered it is the desire of the director that all share its benefits alike.

A Huge Log Weighing 16,000 Pounds.

The Green River News is responsible for the following:

Mr. C. F. Carlisle delivered to the sawmill of Brown & Luck, at Benton, one day this week, an oak log, which, when cut into lumber, measured out, by Scribner's measure, 1,724 feet.

At 7 1/2 pounds to the foot, the amount estimated for this timber, the lumber would have weighed 12,230 pounds; add to this amount one-third for loss in squaring and sawing, which would be a small allowance, and we have a total weight of 16,306 pounds as the weight of the log before being sawed.

Will Go to Louisville.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. G. Hanks, of Madisonville, will leave for Louisville in a few days, where he will act as special agent for the Singer Sewing Machine Co. and Mrs. Hanks will take charge of store on 4th street. Mr. Hanks and his estimable wife have been with the Singer Co. for some time and that their effective service is appreciated by that company is evidenced by their recent promotion. Their many friends congratulate them on their success and expect to see them reach a higher altitude in the service of the company.

YELLOW FEVER.

It is Alleged, Raging in Pike County.

Five cases of what is said to be yellow fever are reported in Pike county, near the Letcher county line. Three deaths have already occurred. Physicians have pronounced the disease genuine yellow fever, and the people of that whole section are wrought up for fear there will be a general spread. It is said that a traveling man from New York, who came through that section from South America and traversed the county during the latter part of last month, introduced the infection.

KENTUCKY EDITORS,

Who Are Attending World's Press Parliament at St. Louis, Will Return June 14

AND BE ENTERTAINED AT WOMAN'S MAGAZINE BUILDING.

A special from St. Louis to the Courier-Journal says Kentucky is represented at the World's Press Parliament by the following Kentucky editors: Paul M. Moore, Earlinton Bee; C. M. Meacham, Hopkinsville Kentuckian; W. Q. Adams, Owensboro Inquirer; W. H. Jones, Glasgow Republican; M. F. Coney, Louisa News; Lew Brown, Harrodsburg Democrat; John G. Craddock, Paris Kentuckian; J. J. Glenn, Madisonville Graphic; Loving Gaines, Elkton Progress; Heber Matthews, Hartford Herald, and E. A. Gullion, New Castle Local. Several of these gentlemen are accompanied by their wives, and will be present at the informal reception given the delegates to the Press Parliament and the members of the National Editorial Association in the Kentucky building Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock.

Mr. Moore, who is president of the Kentucky Press Association, said today that every Kentucky editor was figuring on coming to the World's Fair for Kentucky day, Wednesday, June 15. The business meeting of the association will be held in Louisville on Monday, June 13, on the night of which the entire party will leave via the Henderson Route on a special train for St. Louis. Tuesday will be devoted to getting located and partly seeing the fair. On that afternoon the party will be entertained at the Woman's Magazine building, a courtesy extended through the influence of Miss Ida May Adams, formerly of Kentucky, who is on the editorial staff of this magazine.

The editors are having a good time, despite the cold rain.

Cut It Short.

Be brief, says the Farm and Fireside. Long visits, long stories, long essays, long exhortations, long prayers seldom profit those who have to do with them. Life is short. Time is short. Moments are precious. Learn to condense, abridge and intensify. We can bear things that are dull if they are only short. We can endure many an ache and ill if it is over soon, while even pleasure grows lispid and pain intolerable, if they are only contrived and beyond the limits of reason and convenience. Learn to be short. Lop off the branches; stick to the main facts in your case. If you pray, ask for what you believe you will receive and get through; if you speak, tell your message, and hold your peace; if you write, boil down two sentences into one and three words into two.

EARLINGTON WINS

In the Case of John Gough Against the City for Damages.

In the case of John Gough against the city of Earlinton for $1,100 damages for wrongfully turning the course of water so it would run on his property the jury returned a verdict for the city.

Col. Seebree and Wm. J. Cox spoke for the city of Earlinton and Toet and Jennings & Jenson for Gough.

SOME WEATHER

Prognostications for The Month of May
—In Prose and Poetry.

The swallows twitter gaily and are building in the eaves, the hickory buds are swelling and pushing forth their leaves, the lambs are running races down in the pasture lot, while the housewife leaves her other cares to work the garden plot. The quail is skulking shyly near where she has a nest, the meadow lark conceals her eggs beneath her speckled breast, the restless thrush flits through the hedge in the early gray of morn, and greets the happy farmer going forth to plant his corn.

The bluebells of the forest send forth their sweet perfume, the buttercups and daisies in the meadows are in bloom, the apple trees are wearing their crown of pink and white and the glory of the springtime is now at last in sight! The long and dreary winter with patience we can bear just for a glimpse of May with flowers in her hair! All nature smiles with rapture when sweet-voiced May is born and when the happy farmer goes forth to plant his corn.

About the 17th Grover Cleveland and David Hill will begin their quadrennial game of pussy-wants-a-corner and Judge Parker will begin to make signs and talk on his fingers. This will bring on heavy rains, thunder and lightning, hail seismic shocks and a general cataclysm in the neighborhood of Lincoln, Nebraska. William J. Bryan will run amuck and fear another State platform all to flinders and then eat the flinders.

Toward the latter part of the month the high school graduate will glide to the footlights and tell us to hitch our wagon to a star or words to that effect. That will probably be her farewell public performance unless she secures a job as soup bearer in a eatery. About the 29th brindle shirt waists will be in full bloom and the young lady of the household will hunt a place to hang the hammock. The month will go out with wet feet and a touch of rheumatism.

'Twas Ever Thus.

The Glasgow Times says that a man recently traveled through Barren county selling soap. He gave a case of a hundred cakes for $8 in cash, and a promise that in a few days he would call and bring you a nice carpet of forty yards, a nice set of chinaware or a nice sideboard, and the women bit as well as some of the men, and he took in lots of $8, and now it is assumed he is hunting more suckers, for suckers will bite. Last summer a man was around selling cases of medicine of various kinds, so you could be your own physician and save doctor's bills. Twelve dollars was the price and many were taken in by the stranger, and the service of the doctor is still needed.

Madisonville Lost.

The Madisonville team and the Cherokee Indians played a loose game of ball at the fair grounds Monday. The noble redmen winning.

The score at the close of the game was Madisonville, -12 runs, 10 hits and 9 errors; Indians, 22 runs, 22 hits and no errors.

Batteries—Madisonville, Pritchett, McMore and Battiger; Indians—Breanlien and Bralic.

WHEATCROFT MINING CO.

Holding Its Men—Unusual Inducements and Liberal Pay.

FREE TRIP TO THE WORLD'S FAIR.

A special from Wheatcroft, Ky., to the Courier-Journal says: The coal mines at Wheatcroft, after having been closed down about two months, have now resumed operations with nonunion men. These mines have been in operation about two years, and the Miners' Union had gradually worked its men into the mines until they were thoroughly organized. The union and the operators had several disagreements and the mines were closed several times last year, on account of the company's discharging union men, which the union claimed it had no right to do.

Two months ago the company gave notice that it would close down its mines indefinitely, and every man was paid up and discharged, and most of them left town. About a week ago the company secured about thirty white nonunion miners from Seebree and Earlinton, and organized them into an association, known as the Wheatcroft Miners' Association. The company entered into a contract with each of these miners, which provides that whatever is the scale for pick miners in Western Kentucky during the next five years, the company will pay these men 14 percent in excess of any union scale which may be established. It further agrees to put aside a certain percent of its profits and to divide the same among the members of the association, in the way of a cash bonus. This is in addition to their wages. The members of the association have no dues nor assessments to pay, of any nature. The members of the association are to elect their own check weighman and elect a board of trustees to manage the affairs of the association. Nine hours per day constitute a day's work, the company reserving the right, at any time, to work ten hours. Only nonunion men of good character, who can give good references, are admitted as members of the association.

The company further agree that every member of the association who gives satisfaction in his work will be taken by the coal company on a free excursion to the World's Fair at St. Louis some time during the continuance of the exposition, and entirely free of expense to the men. Since the mines have resumed operation with these nonunion men interference has been anticipated from the union men left at Wheatcroft, together with the union men at Sturgis and DeKoven. The company has a large force of Deputy Sheriffs and guards on duty day and nights. On Thursday and Saturday nights of last week, it was reported that 500 men were coming from Sturgis and DeKoven to run the non-union men out of the town, and almost every union man took his wife and family out of the town on those nights. The company had a large number of Deputy Sheriffs sworn in, and armed every man in its employ, and had the men come, there certainly would have been bloodshed.

About nine-tenths of what people say doesn't amount to anything. Politeness often beats the almighty dollar under the wire.

A New Game and How to Play It.

A new game has been recently introduced in good society. The following are directions how it should be played:

Take an ordinary envelope and a piece of writing paper upon which is written your name and address. Tear out of your check book a bank note upon which inscribe figures sufficiently large to pay up all arrearages and one year in advance. Hand or mail this little package to the editor, and if he smiles the trick is played. The game is easy and anybody can play it successfully. Instead of the bank note, a post-office money-order or currency of the land will do just as well. Every time you win the game successfully, you win a point, which is counted in your favor in a little book kept by your opponent.

The game can be played at any time by anybody. Spring and summer weather is said to conduce wonderfully to its success. There is no patent on it. Suppose you try it, just for fun.

LOCOMOTIVE BLASTS

THE MAN IN THE TOWER.

Beside the track there's a narrow tower
Where someone watches away,
And a thousand lives he guards each hour
Faithfully day by day:
The man who toils and the millionaire,
And the lapping child he has in his care,
And the crowded trains rush to
and fro
And the people come and the people go
With never a thought of him watching there.

Beside the track in his narrow tower
He guards when the skies are blue,
And he peers away through the blinding shower
Keeping the fateful signals true;
And the man who has more than his rightful share,
And the man who has dreams of joy
somewhere,
And the man who laughs and the
man who sighs,
And the maid with the loveliest
in her eyes,
Put their lives in his hands, all unaware.

Beside the track in his narrow tower,
Poor, unknown, unsung is he,
Who holds in his hands a greater power
Than an admiral of the sea!
And the man who is bent by a weight
of care,
And the man who has sighted a goal
somewhere,
And the men who rule in temples
of trade,
And the mother at home, and the
blissful maid,
Do they think of the debts that they owe him there?

The Louisville and Nashville railroad is making a practical test of an invention of Harry Swoyer to lighten the task of the locomotive firemen. The device is an ash-shaker, to clean the furnaces of engines, and if successful will fill an important place on every engine of the system. It has been installed on a number of engines, but the final decision of the railroad as to its adoption will not be made until a thorough trial has been made.

Heretofore it has been necessary in removing the ashes from an engine to punch the refuse fill through the bars by main strength and awkwardness. The firemen use a long iron poker, and while they stand as far from their work as possible, it is often necessary, in giving an engine a thorough cleaning, to draw so near to the furnace that the heat is painful. The invention will fill a long-felt want. Other railway mechanics are also working along the same line, and it is believed that the next few years will see a remarkable development in the device, for which train-men have been at a loss throughout all the years of locomotive engineering.

Mr. Swoyer, whose invention is being tested by the Louisville and Nashville, is now with the Roger Locomotive Works, of Paterson, N. J., but up to six months ago was the master mechanic of the Louisville and Nashville road. The patent on his invention was issued to him last week at Washington, and is his personal property. The Louisville and Nashville on which he had the best part of his experience will be among the first to have the advantage of the device.

LIVER TROUBLES

"I used Thedford's Black-Draught
a good medicine for liver disease.
It cured my son after he had spent five weeks in hospital. It is the best I take."—MRS. CAROLINE
MARTIN, Petersburg, W. Va.

If your liver does not act regularly go to your druggist and secure a package of Thedford's
Black-Draught and take a dose tonight. This great family medicine cures the constipated bowels, ails up the torpid liver and causes a healthy secretion of bile.

Thedford's Black-Draught
will cleanse the bowels of impurities and strengthen the kidneys. A torpid liver invites colds, biliousness, chills and fever and all manner of sickness and contagion. Weak kidneys result in Bright's disease which claims as many victims as consumption. A 2-cent package of Thedford's Black-Draught should always be kept in the house.

"I used Thedford's Black-Draught for liver and kidney complaints and found nothing to equal
it."—WILLIAM COFFMAN, Marshfield, Ill.

THURSDAY, MAY 19, 1904.

Is this month May or March?

This is abominable weather and the fish won't bite.

Several of the Kentucky editors are having a good time in St. Louis this week, but they are not having the proverbial hot time, on account of the weather.

THE output of maple sugar in Vermont for the present season is estimated commercially at from 15,000,000 to 20,000,000 pounds.—Crop Reporter.

Nothing said about how much New Orleans brown or Kansas beet is associated with enormous product of our wooden nutmeg makers.

THE street cleaning force under the supervision of City Marshal Benton is doing good work this week and the alleys that were erstwhile filled with cast off shoes, battered tomato cans and other friar-a-brac are considerably improved in appearance.

Big Land Deal.

Geo. R. Lynn, the enterprising real estate dealer of Madisonville, last week closed a deal for Tennessee timbered land involving 6,000 acres of land at a cost of $40,000. The purchasers are from Battle Creek, Michigan. Mr. Lynn realized a handsome profit on the sale.

Want New Mexico Changed to Lincoln.

Albuquerque, N. M., May 13.—When the new department officers of the G. A. R. were installed last night a resolution was introduced that when New Mexico becomes a State Congress be asked to give the New State the name of "Lincoln," in honor of the martyred President. The resolution was unanimously adopted.

Will Protect Tobacco Rate.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK.

A mercantile company pasted a large poster on a bridge. The wind caused it to flutter and scare a team. The team tipped the wagon over, broke two dozen eggs, a hams strap, the driver's leg and an axle tree. They ran away and through a garden, tipping a beehive over. The bees stung a young lady of the house until her lips swelled to such immense proportions that her best fellow left her and went to the Philippines. The driver sued the firm for damages. One hundred and eighty witnesses were called. When they were asked what was advertised on the poster of the home paper and keep it alive—not the paper but the ad.—West Baden Journal.

POLITICAL STATE NEWS.

The reorganizers seem determined to drive William J. Bryan out of the party. Indeed, several of their principal organs have explicitly expressed this desire. They may succeed. Probably they will. But whether they do or not, there are thousands who believe in Bryan who have already set themselves everlastingly against the reorganizers, and will again vote the ticket so long as the party is controlled by this particular faction.

One of the admirable things about the republican state convention was the platform. It not only rings with Americanism and republicanism, but touches upon all the vital points in a way that shows conviction in the minds of those who prepared it. It is brief enough but not too long enough but not too long. It will be a good thing for every republican to file away where he can take it up at a moment's notice.—Evansville Economist.

The Harrodsburg Herald says: This is a great year for the Williamses in politics. James R. Williams is representing an Illinois district in congress. John Sharp Williams has risen to the distinction of the parliamentary leadership of his party on the floor of the house. Geo. Fred Williams continues to make a spectacle of himself in the Massachusetts campaign, and now Samuel W. Williams, of Vincennes, Ind., has been indorsed as the popular nominee for president. The advent of any more Williamses into national politics will provoke the natural inquiry whether this is to be a government of the Williamses for the Williamses and by the Williamses.

STOLE $50.00.

Thieves Effect an Entrance Into the House of Switchman Ed McCarty and Steals Fifty Dollars.

Some time during the night Sunday or Monday morning the house of Switchman Ed McCarty on Sebree avenue, this city, was entered and the sum of fifty dollars was stolen. The inmates of the house were partially aroused sometime during the night by hearing a noise around the place, but thinking it was probably a dog made no attempt to investigate. From all circumstances it would seem the money was taken by some one who had a good idea of where it was located. This incident goes to prove that one should place his savings in the bank where it will be much safer than at home and where thieves do not break through and steal.

Sadie Grasty Shoots at Negroes.

Sadie Grasty, of Mortons Gap, shot at three negroes by the name of Davis at that place Sunday.

They are brothers and Grasty claims that they have tried to assault him before and were in the act of doing so when he fired on them. The shot scattered them. It is understood that Grasty surrendered to the authorities.

Are Fellow Servants.

The United States Supreme Court decided Monday that a telegraph operator and a fireman engaged by a railroad are "fellow-servants" and that the negligence of the former causing the death of the latter in the operation of a train was a risk the fireman assumed, and was not a ground for damages against the railroad company. Justice White delivered a dissenting opinion, which was concurred in by Chief Justice Fuller and Justices Harlan and McKenna.

A Few Things You Might Drop

Drop your evil associations. Drop at least one bad habit each year. Get the drop on yourself. Drop whatever you've got which you wouldn't buy if you didn't have it. Drop a hot iron before it burns you. Drop worn-out tools. Drop loose methods. Drop incising, your associates. Drop fretting, lying, cheating, thieving, loitering, loafing, spending, borrowing and hankering. Drop winning over failures. Drop a tear now and then, a word of good cheer, a little of the milk of human kindness. Drop in only occasionally. Get the drop on the chap who tries to down you. Drop again once in a while, to see how the other fellow is doing. Drop a word in favor of a friend. When you find yourself in the way, drop out.

A Cure for Piles.

"I had a bad case of piles," says C. F. Carter, of Atlanta, Ga., "and consulted a physician who wanted me to try a box of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. I purchased a box and was entirely cured. The salve did for piles, giving relief instantly, and I heartily recommend it to all sufferers." DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is unequalled for its healing qualities. Eczema and other skin diseases, also sores, cuts, burns and wounds of every kind are quickly cured by it.

Once there was a horse that became curious of the stump-tailed thoroughbreds he saw on the boulevards.

One day when he was in his stall he knawed all the hair off his fine long tail as far as he could reach.

"Now," he said, "I'm in fashion." But when he tried to associate with the abbreviated thoroughbreds they turned up their noses at him. "He's an upstart and an imitation," they said, "Besides, his tail is still a great deal too long."

Neither would the horses in his own class have anything to do with him.

"He's a disgrace," they said, "All he needs to do now to make a Missouri mule of himself is to lengthen his ears."

It took that horse a year to get back into his former station in society.

Moral. It is better to be contented than fashionable.

Paired Skirts on Posters.

A telegram from Elizabeth, N. J., to the New York Sun says: "As a result of many complaints recently made to the police, a gang of men has been at work all day covering up the display advertisements of a burlesque show booked to appear at the Lyceum Theater here on Friday night."

Billboard advertising here is in charge of a Newark concern which sent the men to cover the objectionable pictures. The posters showed a boy of young woman in red, white and pink tights. The men painted strips of white paper across the pictures so that each burlesquer now has a white reaching to the knees, and a skirt of pink tights, dangling beneath. Each poster now looks like a snapshot of a procession of typewriters passing the Flatiron building on a windy day.

The theatre people did not know the signs were being tampered with until late this afternoon when the ticket seller noticed an unusual demand for seats on Friday night. Most of the men who wanted tickets were a peculiar sight, which finally led the ticket seller to find out what was up.

Not only the billboards were visited, but also the barber shops, and every store in the city had lithographs in the windows advertising the show.

The police would not tell who made the complaint about the posters. Chief Tenny says there is a law against such advertising in New Jersey and intimates that a strict censorship will be kept on the billboards of Elizabeth in the future.

Young man, begin at once to save your money and try to be something in this world. If you earn only fifty cents a day, by all means save half of it. Too many young men feel that they are bound to keep up with the procession, even though they have to use money that is not their own. Many an old man wishes for the money that he has spent foolishly in his younger days. In young manhood is the time to prepare for old age.

Cured His Mother of Rheumatism.

"My mother has been a sufferer for many years with rheumatism," says W. H. Howard, of Highland, Mo. "At times she was unable to move at all, while at all times walking was painful. I procured for her a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications she decided it was the most wonderful pain reliever she had ever tried. In fact, she is never without it now and is at all times able to walk. An occasional application of Pain Balm keeps away the pain that she was formerly tormented with."

A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. Kentucky Crop Report.

The following is the Kentucky crop report, issued from the local Louisville Weather Bureau.

Very favorable weather prevailed throughout the week. Work was vigorously prosecuted, and growing crops advanced fairly well. Light showers at the close of the week were very beneficial.

Wheat shows considerable improvement, but it had such a poor start and was so badly winter-killed that there cannot be anything like a full crop. It is so thin in some places that corn is being planted in its place.

Corn planting progressed rapidly and was nearly completed. A large acreage is being put in. The early planted corn is coming up better than was expected.

Tobacco plants are in good condition in most localities and preparations for transplanting have begun; the acreage will not be quite as large as usual.

Corn, oats, clover and grasses are more promising, but winter oats are rather thin.

Hemp is coming up well.

Gardens and potato crops are late, but are now doing much better.

Reports in regard to fruit vary. There is a fair central parts of the State most of the peaches and a great many apples were killed, but in the northeastern and the extreme western counties the damage is not so great. A fair crop of strawberries is expected.

The Century's Summer Campaign.

It is announced that each of the summer and autumn numbers of The Century will carry out a special plan. The June issue, for instance, will be a Western number, its long and full table of contents representing, by subject or by contributor, every trans-Allegheny State or Territory. It will be, in a certain sense, a Western exhibit for the St. Louis Fair. There will be eight articles of special significance to the West and of much general interest, including a word for forestry from ex-President Cleveland, four striking color plates, eleven stories beside further chapters of Jack London's "The Sea- Wolf," and many other features that promise much pleasure and profit.

The July issue will have a special fiction number, but will have also a paper on "The New West Point," with illustrations from the architect's plans, and two or three articles touching interests in the Far East. Andre Castaigne's pictures of the World's Fair, for which the studies were made on the grounds, are making, and are promised for an early number.

When the Sap Rises.

Weak lungs should be careful. Coughs and colds are dangerous when they get into the lungs. Mrs. G. E. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me. I am now as healthy and contented as my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength."

JAPANESE LOSE SHIP IN KERR BAY

The Cruiser Miyako Sunk by Coming in Contact with a Sunked Russian Mine.

SIX JAPANESE WERE KILLED
AS A RESULT OF THE ACCIDENT.

Admiral Katsuka's Torpedo Fleet, in Kerr Bay, Engaged in Destroying the Mines in the Bay and Had Put Five Out of Business When the Disaster Occurred.

Washington, May 17.—The Japanese fleet, which arrived in Kerr Bay, Ky., on May 14, 1905, for the purpose of destroying the mines in the bay, had put five out of business when the disaster occurred. The Japanese fleet, which arrived in Kerr Bay, Ky., on May 14, 1905, for the purpose of destroying the mines in the bay, had put five out of business when the disaster occurred. The Japanese fleet, which arrived in Kerr Bay, Ky., on May 14, 1905, for the purpose of destroying the mines in the bay, had put five out of business when the disaster occurred.

THE LOSS OF THE MIYAKO.

The News of the Disaster Shockingly Received in Tokyo.

Tokio, May 17.—The cruiser Miyako was lost while assisting in the operations of clearing the Russian mines from Kerr bay, northeast of Taiten-Wan bay, on which Port Dalry is situated. Admiral Katsuka, commander of the fleet, returned there Sunday with a detachment of his squadron, protecting two flotillas of torpedo boats which had been detailed to complete sweeping the harbor by removal of mines. Five mines were discovered and exploded, and the work was being suspended for the day when the Miyako struck an undetected mine, which exploded with tremendous force under the stern, on the port side, and inflicted immense damage on the hull. The Miyako sank in 22 minutes. Two sailors were killed and 22 men were wounded. The rest of the crew were rescued.

The news of the loss of the Miyako has been sorrowfully received in Tokyo. The dangerous character of the work in which the Miyako was engaged is generally appreciated, but it was thought that the loss of torpedo boat No. 48, under similar circumstances, Thursday last, would serve as a warning to those engaged in the work to exercise great care.

The Miyako was a steel cruiser of 1,800 tons displacement and 6,130 indicated horse power, completed in 1901, and having an estimated speed of 20 knots. She was 314½ feet long, had 26-feet beam and drew 13½ feet of water. Her armament consisted of two 4-inch quick-firing guns and ten 1.8-inch guns and four torpedo tubes.

HIS ARMY IS TOO SMALL.

Gen. Kurapatkin Must Avoid Battles With His Present Force.

Berlin, May 17.—In Russian official circles it is now admitted, according to reports from St. Petersburg, that Gen. Kurapatkin has notified the emperor that he can not adopt offensive measures before the two army corps now being mobilized in European Russia arrive at the theater of war. Kurapatkin attributes the necessity of confining himself to defensive operations to the fact that the reinforcements which were dispatched many weeks ago to Port Arthur, Vladivostok and the Yalu river, have greatly weakened his main army.

It is possible, though extremely improbable, that the second eastern Siberian division of infantry now employed in the defense of the Ussuri coast and territory may be withdrawn to Mukden, and thence to Liao Yang in time to assist in meeting the Japanese attack.

The mixed corps under Gen. Zassitch, which was defeated at the Yalu river, may also be expected to effect a junction with the Russian main army, but the fate of the fourth eastern Siberian division of infantry is irretrievably bound up with that of Port Arthur.

The total strength of the Russian forces at Liao Yang, including the fourth Siberian army corps, which is now well on the way to the Japanese headquarters, can not therefore exceed 140,000 men, according to the most favorable computation.

Gen. Sanborn Dead.

Do not fail to attend Mothers' Meeting Sunday at 2:30. Please be on time. The work of the school will be inspected tomorrow. Do not fail to be present. Be on time. You will not see the beginning of any program unless you are there at the time set. The evening programs will begin at 8 o'clock, and not five minutes after. If there are only two people present or if there are not any present, we begin at 8 o'clock. You may purchase tickets of Robt. Winn, Whitson Eaves, Jonas Craig or Wm. Hines. Balcony tickets, 15c; dress circle, 25c. We are not seeking to make money. We must pay the expenses of opera house. No need to say that the exercises are strictly high class, for there is no need of offering anything other than that to the Earlington people. We try not to be elaborate in advertising, but elaborate in work. One reason why we try to not make high sounding advertisements is every thing nowadays is "grand," "superb," "excellent," "extraordinary," and many times it is nothing. See? But you be there on time Friday morning at 9 to see what the children have learned. But if you can not see the "larin" on the Sunday without going to see it, we fear they have "larn" but little.

The Nashville Reunion.

The Reunion Committee sends the Southern Press the good news that all arrangements are perfected for entertaining the United Confederate Veterans at Nashville, June, 14-16. The Camps of Veterans, the Sons of Veterans, and three Chapters of the Daughters of the Confederacy are working in harmony with the business organizations of Nashville to furnish an entertainment as nearly faultless as possible.

The fact that these conventions had become so expensive to cities entertaining so deterred action that it was left for Nashville to become host again sooner than was expected. But the capital of the Volunteer State, aided by adjacent communities, is ready. All of the people are in hearty accord, and arrangements are being made in Nashville to entertain the Veterans everywhere, is extended without misgivings in any particular. Arrangements are far better than ever before for Veterans to meet in their old commands—on the campus of the Vanderbilt University.

The only variation from former rules of entertainment is that of giving the "old soldiers" preference. This action will be approved by every loyal, beautiful woman who comes to do them honor. While sponsors and their maids of honor will be entertained by their Department, Division, and Brigade Commanders, provision is being made for many of them in the homes of our best people, so the committee is confident of as perfectly delightful reunion as has ever yet been held. The orator of the occasion will be Rev. S. McKim, of Washington, D. C., who served in the army of Northern Virginia, a most loyal Confederate and a very eloquent speaker.

It is earnestly requested and urged that all Camps report promptly to Secretary L. R. Eastman, the number of Veterans for whom free entertainment is to be supplied.

Remember the dates—June 14-16. The low rate of one cent per mile each way, plus 35 cents, with extension privilege of several weeks upon the payment of 50 cents for the deposit and care of ticket by the railroad agents, has been given.

Committee: M. B. Picher, President; Frank Cheatham Camp and Bivouac; Oliver J. Timmy, merchant; S. A. Cunningham, editor of Confederate Veteran; Edgar M. Foster, manager of the Nashville Banner.

General Committee: Charles F. Frissell, Chairman; L. R. Eastman, Secretary.

Tobacco Raisers Lose Money.

A small district in Ohio and Kentucky grows a variety of tobacco known as white burley. For some years prices have been low in spite of what farmers claimed to be short crops. Last fall an effort was made to have the growers combine and sell the crop of the market until it was usual, the effort ended in failure. Local buyers, as well as the firms of the Continental Tobacco Co. went into the market and by April crop had passed out of the hands of the growers at prices averaging about 2 cents a pound higher than that paid for the 1908 crop. When the Continental discovered that its purchases would not supply factories with raw material for six months, and a state bordering panic among its managers resulted. The local buyers held from 60,000 to 1,000,000 pounds each, and in 15 days nearly all of this had been sold into the hands of the tobacco companies at from 6 to 10 cents per pound more than paid the farmers. The farmers of the district had effected their organization and added to the idea of holding their crop until May, they would have made more than $1,000,000 above the price received for the crop.

Whitewash Formula.

Take half a bushel of unslaked lime, mix it with boiling water, cover during the process to keep in steam, strain the liquid through a fine sieve or strainer and add to it a peck of salt, previously dissolved in warm water, three pounds of ground rice boiled to a thin paste and stirred in while hot, half a pound of Spanish whiting, and one pound of clean glue, previously dissolved by soaking in cold water and then hanging over a slow fire in a small vessel placed in a larger one filled with water, and five gallons of hot water to make a stir well and let stand a few hours covered from dirt. It should be applied hot, for which purpose it may be kept in a kettle or portable range. The east end of the President's house at Washington is embellished by this brilliant whitewash. It is used by the Government whitewash lighthouses.

The Culture of Sweet Potatoes.

From time immemorial growers of sweet potatoes have set their plants on the top of ridges, and through the years this custom has been generally followed. Prof. R. A. Emerson, of the Nebraska experiment station, made some tests in growing sweet potatoes in ridges, and also on level spots.

On unirrigated soil the level culture gave decidedly the best result. On irrigated land hill culture gave the largest crops. This difference is explained by the fact that in Nebraska, where the experiments were made, the seasons are dry, and while the sweet potato delights in a dry soil, the ridge soil dried out too much where there was no irrigation. On the irrigated soils, with an excess of water, the plants on the ridges produced the best results, because the soil dried out more readily. Thus it will be seen that whether sweet potatoes should be planted on ridges or level ground depends a great deal on circumstances. In Nebraska, or other places where the soil is dry, level culture is recommended, while in the heavy soil of Illinois and Iowa the ridges are best, for the level culture will leave the soil too wet and cold.

No hard or fast rules can be laid down for all sections of the country, nor for all conditions.—Associated Farm Press.

Ask Congressmen For This Book.

Washington, D. C. May 13.—There are some interesting publications in preparation in the Department of Agriculture at the present time. The complete revision of the book on "Diseases of Cattle" has been completed and copy has gone to the public printer. It is not probable that many copies will be ready for distribution before the end of August or first of September, as the new edition will contain many elaborate colored plates; but when the book is completed it will be one of the most valuable additions to agricultural literature published in recent years. Almost the entire edition will be at the disposal of members of Congress, on whose orders it will be sent out.—The Associated Farm Press.

Charcoal and Salt for Hogs.

Wood ashes and charcoal should always be where the hogs can get to it. An excellent charcoal is burnt corncobs. Hogs relish them and thrive upon them. Hogs need as much salt as do other animals. It ought to be kept in the end of the trough at all times, where all the herd can have constant access to it. The farmer who will pay attention to these two things in the management of his animals will have less cholera among his swine than his neighbors who pay no attention to such details.—Associated Farm Press.

As the time for putting out a new crop of tobacco approaches, naturally the matter of a curtailment of this staple product is being considered with more or less interest, says the Pembroke Journal.

From what we have been able to gather from reliable sources we feel justified in the assertion that the crop in what might be termed the Pembroke district, meaning the section of the country which has heretofore market its loose tobacco here, will be very materially reduced. Some farmers will not put out a plant. Others will likely not put out more than half the usual crop. Still others who were in the habit of growing a moderate crop will put out about the usual acreage, owing to preparations already being made with that end in view. Some of our largest growers will not make any material reduction but in no case will there be any increase.

Reports come from some sections of the Western Kentucky tobacco district that tobacco will be left out almost entirely. For instance, in the Mayfield vicinity it is said that something like 40,000 acres of cotton will be planted. In this section cotton is to take the place of tobacco. Many other crops not generally grown heretofore will be given a trial.

Cedar boughs are said to be good things in a poultry house, and fine twigs of cedar mixed with the material of which the setting nests are made, it is claimed are very useful in keeping the nests free from mites and lice.

Don't make a floor in the poultry house; it don't pay, and it may serve as a rat harbor. Grade the floor up a little above the ground level with gravel. If you have it, and keep it littered with dry straw or chaff. But clean it out often.

Give the setting hens an occasional dusting of insect powder. The setting hens will dust themselves almost every time they come off the nest, if a good dusting place is handy. A little insect powder sprinkled in this place is just about the proper thing. In the absence of these better arrangements, sprinkle insect powder in the setting nest.

Every little while we notice that some man well fixed on a good farm sells and thinks he will look for a better country, and after trying the several Gardens of Eden, as set forth by real estate agents and corporations, comes back to his old stamping ground and buys the old Kentucky farm back at a good increase in price over that which he received. It is a waste of time to rent the old place for a year or so and prospect. You may want to come back.

All housekeepers should keep an account of their expenses. The farmer, at the end of the year, should be able to tell in a minute what his household spent, as well as what he took in during the preceding twelve months. No more valuable training than this can be given your children as they grow up. To be systematic and observing are the first steps to success in any kind of business.

The price of burley tobacco went up today higher than has been known in years. A boxhead of cigarette wrapper sold for $36 a hundred pounds in Louisville last week; which is higher by $8.00 than has been known in years. The tobacco was priced by C. M. McCrauder, of Shelbyville.

Those who covered their strawberry vines with leaves last fall, or other litter, should watch them closely at this time of year, and as soon as the plants begin to grow the litter should be removed.

Beef cattle, when dehorned, may be shipped a great distance with possibility of them injuring one another, reduced to the minimum. Owners of herds should bear this in mind when assorting calves for future markets.

Tobacco plants are small, but doing fairly well; in the northern counties they are very late, just coming up in some beds. Reports indicate that plants will be scarce in some localities.

It pays in the long run to plant young trees. If, of course, takes more time, but there is the advantage of being able to train them to any desired shape. If large trees are transplanted it is generally necessary to cut away much of the top and that permanently injures their value and appearance.

In only two years in the history of the United States has as much as 10 percent of the corn crop been exported; out of the crop of 1897, 11.14 percent was shipped abroad, and out of the 1898 crop 10.80 percent.

In the nine months ended March 31, 1904, there were exported from the United States 410,816 head of cattle as compared with 249,583 head during the same period in 1903-08.

Exports of corn from the United States during the first nine months of the present fiscal year were 49,585,000 bushels, against 52,658,018 bushels for the same period in 1903.

Last year no less than 77 percent of the leaf tobacco imported into the United Kingdom had been stripped before importation. Hence more than three-fourths of the leaf tobacco imported will be affected by the proposed increase of duty.

Farmers report the wheat crop throughout Union county as looking exceptionally promising and unless some unforeseen disadvantage materializes, prospects point to a splendid wheat yield in Union county this year.

To clean sponges, wash them in diluted tartaric acid, rinsing them in water. This will make them very soft and white.

Before buying tinned fruits and meats see if the top is flat or depressed. If the top has bulged out, then air has entered the tin and fermentation set in.

Vinegar should not be kept in a stone jar, as the acid may effect the glazing and the vinegar be rendered unwholesome. Glass jars are the best vinegar receptacles.

Freshen the house by putting a few drops of oil of lavender in an ornamental bowl, then half fill with very hot water. This will give delightful freshness to the atmosphere.

Good Spirits.

Good spirits don't all come from Kentucky. The main source is the liver—and all the fine spirits ever made in the Blue Grass State could remedy a bad liver or the hundred-and-one ill effects it produces. You can't have good spirits and a bad liver at the same time. Your liver must be in fine condition if you must feel buoyant, happy and hopeful, but if it is not, it will atep, vigorous and successful in your pursuits. You can put your liver in the condition by using Green's August Flower—the greatest of all medicines for the liver and stomach and the best cure for dyspepsia or indigestion. It has been a favorite household remedy for over thirty-five years. August Flower will make your liver healthy and active and thus insure you a liberal supply of "good spirits" at the same time. Regular bottles, 75c. At all druggists.

Ice Cream Supper at Mortons Gap.

The ice cream supper given at Mortons Gap, by the ladies of the Sunday School was a success both socially and financially.

It was beyond all expectations, even though the night was cool, ice cream disappeared in a way calculated to make people stare in amazement.

Dr. Williams was writing prescriptions before the evening was half spent.

The tables were beautifully decorated with choice flowers and near each one stood a pretty young lady whose smile melted the hardest of hearts and almost unconsciously you would feel for your pocket-book.

One half hour was spent in voting for the prettiest girl present, the lucky one getting as a prize a beautiful cake. The contest was decided in favor of Miss Roxie Sisk, she having received 270 votes with twenty majority.

It would certainly take a beautiful girl to be the queen of that assembly.

That hot cake went for $19 and we think if all cakes were so expensive we would go cake hungry.

It was the most enjoyable affair that we have ever experienced and we wish to thank the ladies who assisted in the work so nobly and especially do we thank Mrs. E. T. Almon for her beautiful music. We will always look back upon this evening as being a vision of happy faces and a glimpse of the land that flows with milk and honey.

An Open Letter.

From the Chapin, S. O. News: Early in the spring my wife and I were taken with diarrhoea pains and so severe were the pains that we called a physician who prescribed for us, but his medicines failed to give any relief. A friend who had a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy on hand gave each of us a dose and we at once felt better. I procured a bottle and before using the entire contents were entirely cured. It is a household remedy and is found in every household. H. C. Bailey, Editor.

CHICAGO MURDER MYSTERY

Body of Murdered Man was Found in the Illinois and Michigan Canal.

Chicago, May 14.—The body of a man who had evidently been murdered was found in the Illinois and Michigan canal Friday night. The corpse was badly decomposed. A gag had been placed across the mouth and two heavy sections of steam pipe had been attached to the right arm. There was a deep knife wound above the right knee, the skull was fractured behind the right ear and this left shoulder was broken. There is no clue to the identity of the man.

SAYS SANTA CLAUS IS MYTH

Dr. DeFord, a St. Louis Baptist Minister, Thinks He Should Be Relegated to the Rear.

Nashville, Tenn. May 17.—At Monday's session of the Southern Baptist convention, Dr. DeFord, of St. Louis entered a vigorous protest against teaching children that there is such an entity as Santa Claus. He said it was a myth, and an abomination that should be relegated to the rear. Dr. DeFord said to teach children this deception was exceedingly harmful, and that it would encourage and train children to be deceitful.

MISSOURI BANK ROBBERED.

Safe at Vera Wrecked by Burglars, Who Escaped in Robbery.

Nevada, Mo. May 16.—The Farmers' bank at Vera, 15 miles northwest of Nevada, was entered by robbers about two o'clock Saturday morning and the safe blown to pieces with nitro-glycerin. It is stated they secured the entire contents, amounting to $1,500 in money.

The bank has a paid-up capital of $5,000, and has been in operation less than one year. The stockholders of the bank are E. L. Rodman, president, F. R. Rucker, cashier; T. J. Tygard, J. P. Allen and Mrs. John Price.

The entrance was made by forcing a door open with a large railroad bar. The officials refuse to announce the amount of money stolen.

The robbery is believed to have been accomplished by three men who were seen driving west from Vera in a rubber-tired buggy at a rapid rate immediately after the explosion, which was heard by several persons.

HOTEL INSIDE THE GROUNDS.

A New Provision at the World's Fair
Which Other Expositions
Did Not Have.

ROOMS WITH OR WITHOUT BATH
ACCORDING TO PRICE.

One unique feature of the Louisville Purchase Exposition is the magnificent hotel within the grounds known as the Inside Inn. Here all the appointments and accommodations of a modern, first-class, metropolitan hotel are provided at rates as reasonable as are charged for similar service in any city in the union.

This hotel is 400 feet wide by 800 feet long, three stories high, and is on high ground near the Plateau of States, and in the rear of the Art Palace, Festival Hall, the Cascade Gardens and other portions of the main picture of the Exposition. The Intramural railroad, running by its door carries visitors to any portion of the 1,240 acres inside the Exposition boundaries, and thereby affords quick access to all the points of greatest interest and amusement. The hotel has 2,357 sleeping rooms, a dining room and cafe seating 2,500 persons and is well provided with spacious parlors and waiting rooms. A guest at this hotel has only to pay the hotel rate, which covers his daily admission to the Fair, and he is free from the usual annoyance and loss of time incident to the crush of the crowds passing through the gates.

The Inside Inn is under the supervision of the Exposition authorities and the prime motive is to provide first-class accommodations at the most reasonable rates possible. Rooms are $1.50, $2.00 and $2.50 per day. The more elaborate suites at a higher price, provide the luxuries that are to some extent demanded. The Inn is at the southeast entrance of the grounds and is reached by direct lines of cars running west from Union Station.

Newspaper people from Kentucky and all over the world are at the Inside Inn this week.

News of the Mines.

FIRED FROM MINER'S UNION.

Sturgis Carpenter Fined for Dealing at Non-Union Store.

He Writes Verses for The Bee and Signs His Name.

Mat Hindmarch, of Sturgis, Ky., formerly a member of the miner's union at his home town, is now an advocate of the "open shop" or perhaps in favor of no recognition for the miner's union. It came about in this way, his local union was fined by his local union for trading at a non-union store, that is a store where the clerks are not unionized. He announced that he was ready to pay the fine but he demanded that he be given a proper receipt officially signed, showing the amount of the fine paid and stating fully what it was paid for. He said he always took such receipts for money he paid out and did not care to make exception in this case. His request for a receipt was refused, he was fired from the union and his work was boycotted. In commemoration of this event he has written some verses for publication in The Bee which are printed below over his signature.

In this connection it is interesting to note that the sustained anti-union movement about Sturgis has resulted in a radical change from the former condition when nearly all employees in the various lines of business were unionized. Now the non-union stores and banks of the town are doing the business of the town and the non-union sentiment is reliably reported to be steadily spreading.

Which—What or Who?

Are you a trailer or are you a trolley.
Are you tagged to a leader through wisdom and folly.
Are you somebody else or you.
Do you vote by the symbol and swallow it straight.

Do you pray by the book, do you pray by the rate.

Do you pay up your dues by the calendar date,
Does it benefit you?

Are you a worker—that's the way it is worded,
Are you a shepherd or one of the herded.

Which are you, a what or a who?
It sounds well to call yourself "one of the flock."

But a sheep is a sheep after all, at the block,
You're nothing but mutton, or possibly stock.

Would you flavor a stew?
Are you a being to go off on a bike,
Or are you a meaning to go out on a strike?

Are you somebody else or you?
When you finally pass to the Heavenly yard.

Where Peter, the angel, is standing on guard,
Will you give him for a pass a union card?

Do you think it will do?

NEW MINE BEING OPENED

At Providence by the Webster County Coal Company.

The Webster County Coal Company commenced sinking a shaft on its property near this city Monday morning and doing other necessary preliminary work for the opening of the mine.

To get to the coal will require the sinking of a shaft to the depth of about seventy-five feet. A test has already been made of the vein and it is said to be one of the finest strata of coal in western Kentucky.

The Webster County Coal Company was incorporated about one year ago, the incorporators being Hon. F. M. Baker, of Dixon, D. B. Baker, John D. Wynn, Jr., and the Palmer Bros. of this place. They at once went to work and acquired a large body of coal land and satisfactory arrangements for transportation have been secured. The very latest and best approved mining machinery will be installed, and it is the intention of the promoters to have everything in readiness for shipping coal by the time fall trade opens.—Providence Enterprise.

The Shamrock coal mines, operated by the St. Bernard Mining Co., near Providence, will soon suspend for the summer, during which extensive improvements will be made.

The laboring man is not ground under the heel of monopoly as much as he was says an exchange. Powderly has a good government job; Debs now gets $10,000 a year as a railroad official; Sargent is commissioner of immigration and Coxie who marched his rag-tag army to Washington ten years ago is president of a steel company which has borrowed $500,000 on mortgage.

Western Kentucky miners have left the settlement of their differences with the operators to their Executive Committee, which favors acceptance of the terms offered, thus insuring a peaceful agreement.

The work possesses a peculiar interest from the fact that this Government has not heretofore attempted to make any uniform and comprehensive examination of our mineral fuels.

Mr. John K. Orr, who has been superintendent of the Shamrock mine, has resigned to accept a position as coal inspector for the Louisville & Nashville R. R. at Providence.

The Sebree Oil & Gas Company will begin boring for gas at Sebree in a few days. They will sink a well near the L. & N. Railroad. Experts think that both gas and oil can be found in paying quantities in the Sebree country.

The United States Coal, Coke and Gas Company, of which Thomas A. Nevins, the New York multi-millionaire, is President, has announced that the old miners' shaft, near Sturgis, in Crittenden county, will be pumped out and operated in connection with the plant there.

Among the interesting exhibits connected with the Department of Mines and Metallurgy at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition will be a coal testing plant operated under the direction of the United States Geological Survey. The tests will be conducted not for the purpose of determining the relative value or merit of different coals, but primarily for the purpose of demonstrating the most economical methods for their utilization.

The Directors of the Survey has appointed to conduct this work a committee consisting of Messrs. E. W. Parker, J. A. Holmes, and M. R. Campbell.

The equipment for carrying on these tests has been loaned by the exhibitors of the machinery, and Congress has appropriated $60,000 to enable the Director of the Geological Survey to make the tests.

The material to be tested will be collected under the direction of Mr. M. R. Campbell, of the Geological Survey, who will procure the co-operation of the various State geologists. Great care will be exercised to see that the samples sent for testing represent the commercial product of the mines or districts from which the coal is shipped and are not selected samples. No tests will be made of any coals shipped in less quantity than one good sized carload, as it will require from 5 to 20 tons for each of the different tests to which the coals will be subjected.

Mr. Joseph Pomerville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having sent over $2,000 with the best of stomach trouble, without relief, was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and in a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result.

The new Ohio marriage law as amended and passed by the Legislature of that State, provides that the bride must have lived sixty days in the county where license is asked; that both bride and groom appear in court; that drunkards and imbecile persons be refused license." This act of our neighboring State, while it will of necessity retard Kentucky elopers from crossing the Ohio, will on the other hand give impetus to Falmouth as an inviting greta green for Cupid's victims.

His brother on Tuesday afternoon found for him a note which was a list of bugs and a note and found the body cold and stiff, in a bug with the head resting on the back of the seat as if he had fallen asleep. Mr. Levy, according to reports, had been ill in speculation. He was about forty years of age and leaves a family and two brothers Messrs. Sam and Alfred Levy. He was a nephew of Mr. Alex. Hodgesville, Ky., May 16.—Fearing bodily harm from an irate husband, Mrs. Lettie Skaggs, of Green county, bedridden with fever, crawled from her couch, and grabbing a shotgun, leveled it across the foot of the bed and pulled the trigger, the contents taking effect in the right side of Wallace Skaggs, as he entered the door of their home last night about 10 o'clock. Two weeks ago he notified the neighbors of the tragedy, the woman crawled back into bed and remained there alone until morning with the corpse of her husband lying where it fell. At the corner inquest was held and a coroner's jury came to his death from a gunshot wound at the hands of his wife. Frequent quarrels had taken place between the husband and wife of late, which resulted in the tragedy. The woman was arrested and taken to Greenbary to await an examining trial. The alleged slayer is only twenty-five years old, while the husband's age was thirty. They had been married but a short time, but their domestic relations were not the best, and only recent Skaggs had struck his young wife over the back with a bed stick and injured her for life. It is alleged. Skaggs was buried at Mt. Sherman, in this county, this afternoon. The wife attended the burial, and the scene at the grave of her husband was pitiful.
